Kenilworth/Greenbelt Road: History, Outlook

by Diane Oberg

On Monday, September 28 a public forum will be held concerning the Greenbelt Road - Kenilworth Avenue interchange at 8 p.m. in the council room of the Municipal Building. District Engineer Michael Snyder and Deputy Chief Engineer for Traffic Engineering Thomas Hicks of the State Highway Administration will attend. SHA Administrator Hal Kassoff was also invited, but is unable to attend.

The meeting, suggested by Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, will give citizens and SHA officials the opportunity to exchange information and concerns about the new interchange.

History

Although the need for constructing an interchange has been recognized since the late 1960s, actual construction did not begin until the fall of 1984 following years of debate over the design and necessary planning and engineering work. Additional time was then required to obtain construction funds and acquire the necessary right-of-way agreements.

An ideal design would include a full cloverleaf to avoid left turns and the need for traffic signals. However, District 3 Engineer William Shook explained in 1979 that such a design was not possible because of close-by commercial development and the need to minimize encroachment on Greenbelt Park.

Throughout the process a major concern of the city has been to obtain better access to Kenilworth Avenue, Greenbelt Road and the Beltway for the residents of Springhill Lake. At a September 15, 1977 public hearing, State Highway Administration district engineer M. Slade Caltrider assured those present that the elimination of hazards in the Edmonston Road exit would certainly be included in the plans. An SHA staffer, involved in early stages of the project, remembered that in a meeting with Springhill Lake representatives, he had cautioned that giving Edmonston Road traffic direct access to Kenilworth Avenue could result in traffic operation problems.

At a March 22, 1979 public hearing on alternate designs, the city council, along with Springhill Lake Associates, favored Alternative 1, which would have depressed Greenbelt Road under Kenilworth Avenue. Alternative 1 would have provided a signal at the intersection of the Edmonston Road connector to Kenilworth Avenue and would have made that connector a two-way road. Under this alternative all turns would have occurred at the upper level (Kenilworth Avenue) except for eastbound traffic on Greenbelt Road turning left onto northbound Kenilworth. That turn would have been made from the lower level with a separate signal.

However, in July 1979 Hal

Kassoff, then Director of Planning and Preliminary Engineering for the SHA, recommended Alternative 2, which placed Kenilworth Avenue under Greenbelt Road. He said the primary consideration was cost. Alternative 2 was then estimated to cost $9.3 million to build, versus $14.6 million for Alternative 1. The Final Negative Declaration of Environmental Impact, issued in October 1980, explained that Alternative 2 was selected because: 1) the lower volume route (Greenbelt Road) would be interrupted with the at-grade intersections; 2) access to commercial properties along Greenbelt Road would be left unchanged; 3) a greater reduction in accidents was expected; 4) access to the Golden Triangle and Greenbelt Park would be better; and 5) "The benefits accrued the users of the proposed roadway are greater under Alternative 2 than under Alternative 1. Therefore, the increased costs of Alternative 1 cannot be justified."

The declaration also said that if Greenbelt Road were depressed, extensive retaining walls would be required to minimize property damage, since the adjacent properties are developed very close to the right of way.

In a December 17, 1979 letter to Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, Caltrider said that "although Alternative 2 does not initially provide a connection to Springhill Lake from Kenilworth Avenue, we do retain the option of constructing a two-way connection and cross-over if it is determined to be necessary in the future." However, the SHA rejected the suggestion to place a signal at the intersection of Kenilworth Avenue and the Edmonston Road connector because of the likelihood that a signal on Kenilworth so close to the Beltway exit would cause traffic backups onto the Beltway. Shook agreed that better access to Springhill Lake was needed but "away from this intersection."

The Negative Declaration of Environmental Impact also stated that the dual right turn off the ramp from southbound Kenilworth onto Greenbelt Road must be signalized to avoid conflicts with traffic on Greenbelt heading for Edmonston Road.

Current Concerns

Now, $17.6 million dollars later, it appears that the intersection is not the answer to everyone's dreams. Assistant District Engineer for Traffic Engineering Maj Shakib says this figure includes land acquisition, right-of-way planning, engineering and construction costs.

Construction is not yet complete. The ramps to and from Northbound Kenilworth are expected to be completed by early October, according to SHA Area Engineer Joann Warnick. He said that the landscaping contract has been awarded and that the notice to proceed is expected shortly.

Numerous citizens have expressed concerns and fears about certain parts of the intersection, particularly the five-lane ramp combining traffic from southbound Kenilworth Avenue heading for Greenbelt Road with traffic from Edmonston Road heading to either road. In response, the city council directed the city manager to set up the public forum and added a question to the election questionnaire to solicit citizen comments. (See box for results.)

City Comments

In a letter to SHA Administrator Kassoff, City Manager James K. Giese said the interchange "constitutes a public relations disaster for the State Highway Administration and a public safety hazard for motorists."

In his letter, Giese called for rapid improvements to signage and markings, especially on the ramp from Edmonston Road, and to night lighting. He also said immediate modifications were needed to the left turn movement from eastbound Greenbelt onto northbound Kenilworth, where two lanes of traffic turn, only to find the right lane ending almost immediately. He said this turn was poorly marked and lighted. Further, when these motorists reach Kenilworth Avenue, it is not clear whether or not they have a merge lane.

The city manager said the signal cycle is "the longest it has ever been," despite the removal of

Organizations to Sponsor Contest for Co-op Month

The Greenbelt Credit Union, the Greenbelt Consumer Cooperative and Greenbelt Homes, Inc. are jointly sponsoring a poster and essay contest to commemorate the October 1987 National Co-op Month.

The national theme for Co-op month is "People in Partnership". The three sponsoring organizations are soliciting posters or essays from three age categories. The first is kindergarten through sixth grade; the second is seventh and eighth grade; and the third is high school grades, nine through 12.

Contest entries will be received at the Co-op grocery store until 5 p.m., October 15. The entries will be displayed at the former site of the Ben Franklin store, from time of receipt until Sunday, October 25 when the prize winners will be announced. Judging will be done by the President and Manager of each of the three sponsoring cooperatives. The entries will be judged by their ability to demonstrate the theme "People in Partnership". The first prize winners of each category will receive a $50 savings bond. The second prize winners of each category will receive a $25 savings bond.

Gala Reunion Weekend Is Anniversary Year Delight

by Tom White

Barely recovered from a remarkable Labor Day Festival, Greenbelters are looking forward to the festive 50th Anniversary Homecoming Weekend, which is scheduled for October 9 to 11. Planned as part of the city's 50th Anniversary celebration, the Homecoming weekend is shaping up to be a gala celebration of the period 50 years ago when Greenbelt's excited "Pioneer families" began moving into the new planned community, thus beginning the Greenbelt experiment.

The Homecoming will begin on Friday evening at the Roosevelt Center Mall when old Greenbelters, new Greenbelters and friends will gather at the mall for music, reunions and greetings. Then the public is invited to participate in a walk to the Youth Center for official opening ceremonies for the weekend's activities.

Immediately following, a community reception, hosted by the Greenbelt Lions Club, will spread throughout the Youth Center facilities. The Greenbelt Concert Band and other musical groups will entertain. Attendees will also have a chance to view photos from Greenbelt's past and the 50th Anniversary slide show. The Greenbelt 50th Anniversary Book is also expected to be available for purchase, along with other memorabilia honoring the occasion. Bringing back memories of Greenbelt's past, a sock hop will take place between 9 and 11 p.m. Friday night should have something for everyone.

On Saturday, a full program of sports and recreation activities is planned, including the Boys and Girls Club Homecoming Football games. For the younger set a mini-carnival will be set up at Braden field. The Roosevelt Center Mall will be the site of the Greenbelt Homemaker Club's 50th Anniversary Cookie Contest, and other events are scheduled for the Roosevelt Center and Braden field areas.

At noon on Saturday the Greenbelt Museum will be officially dedicated. Following dedication ceremonies, a reception is planned at the Greenbelt Center School. The Center School and the 50th Anniversary Committee are jointly sponsoring a children's art exhibit and the 50th Anniversary Photo Exhibit at the school.

The premier event for the weekend will occur on Saturday evening at the Greenbelt Hilton and Towers, when the dinner/dance will be held. Unfortunately all tickets for the event have already been sold.

On Sunday the festivities resume with a full day's program, including several opportunities for old friends and families to renew acquaintances. Greenbelt Homes, Inc. will sponsor a program on Sunday morning for Greenbelt pioneer families to visit their old homesteads. The American Legion Post #136 will host a special luncheon for the original families (those who moved into the Greenbelt homes in the fall of 1937 and during 1938). Bus tours of Greenbelt are planned at mid-day Sunday and the Greenbelt Museum will open again for public visits.

On Sunday afternoon, the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad is sponsoring a Bull and Seafood Roast at the Fire House (2 to 7 p.m.). Tickets for this event are available at the Fire Department or the City Offices.

As usual, many organizations and groups have come together to assist the 50th Anniversary Committee and the Homecoming Weekend Subcommittee in making this a memorable weekend. Plan to join in the celebration of Homecoming Weekend Oct. 9-12.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC MEETING

GREENBELT-KENILWORTH INTERCHANGE

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1987 - 8:00 P.M.

COUNCIL ROOM -

GREENBELT MUNICIPAL BUILDING

As a result of receiving numerous comments, the Greenbelt City Council has scheduled a public meeting to hear citizens' concerns about the design and operation of the Greenbelt Road-Kenilworth Avenue Interchange. Mr. Michael Snyder, District Engineer of the Maryland State Highway Administration has agreed to attend the meeting in order to hear these comments and provide information on how the State expects to deal with the problems raised.

The public is invited to attend. Any person wishing to be heard will be given an opportunity to do so.

The meeting will be cablecast live on Channel B-10.

In Memoriam

Robert K. ("Jake") Jacoby, Sr., died Sunday, September 20. His passing from the Greenbelt scene will be deeply felt. He was family oriented, sports minded and community involved; volunteering his time at the News Review, faithfully attending exercise classes and pool table sessions at the Youth Center and appearing regularly at GHI board meetings.

He will be greatly missed by his loving, devoted wife, Lucille and members of the family.

I knew Jake as a dependable, generous friend and will feel the loss very much — as will his friends and all who knew him in the community.

Joseph Remenick

Robert Jacoby, Sr.

Robert Keith (Jake) Jacoby, Sr., died Sunday, September 20, while convalescing from a heart attack the week before. He resided in the 2 Court of Southway.

Born in Elmira, NY, Jacoby moved with his family to Washington, D.C., as a teenager. After graduating from Eastern High School during World War II, he joined the Navy and served over seas. While in the Navy he married Lucille. Following the war, Jacoby worked for AT&T, retiring as a Systems Specialist two years ago. Married for 43 years, the Jacoby's raised two children while living in Washington. In 1977 they moved to Springhill Lake and to GHI in 1980.

Jake handled advertising on Monday evenings for this newspaper, regularly attended GHI board meetings, and was a member of Citizens For Greenbelt.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by their two children Robert, Jr. and his wife Lesley of Greenbelt and Christine Summers, her husband Amiel, and their three sons Kevin, Kelly and Tony, all of Washington, D.C.; and a brother William and his wife Betty of St. Michaels.

Memorial contributions may be sent to the Greenbelt Rescue Squad or Children's Hospital.

Youth Football Season Is Off to Exciting Start

by Jeff Keir

The 1987 season openers for the Greenbelt Boys & Girls Club's Football Sports Program were played this past Saturday, September 19. Three teams, two games, three wins!! The teams' pre-season practices and hard work paid off.

The Club's 110 lb. AA County team made up of players from last year's County 95 lb. AA Champions with some key additions, started the day off with a bang, having little trouble in its season opener, a 34-0 win over Forestville at Braden Field. David Crooks rushed the ball six times, three for touchdown runs of 80, 51 and 45 yards. Jeff Miller added a touchdown on a 1-yard run and Adam Patton scored a touchdown on a 14-yard pass from quarterback Brian Smith. Tommy Ray, Brian Smith and Jeff Miller each scored extra-point conversions. The Greenbelt defense held Forestville to little or no gain except for a fake punt, in which the Forestville team got a first down.

The 85 lb. AA County team was scheduled to play its Ft. Washington counterpart at Braden, however, the Ft. Washington team arrived almost a half-hour late, after the game was called by the officials, and had to forfeit to Greenbelt. The two squads decided to play a scrimmage game, in which Greenbelt looked a bit shaky in the first half, but came back in the second half much stronger.

The Club's 75 lb. AA County team ended the day with a rainy night game against Forestville, in which the team looked real good, better than the 7-0 score indicates. This team has, as does the 85 lb. team, a number of returning veterans on it with some smart looking rookie additions. All three teams are expected to be real competitive this season.

Coming up Saturday, September 26, the 85 lb. team and the 110 lb. team will meet their Silver Hill #2 counterparts at Potomac High School; the 85's at 1:15 p.m. and the 110's at 2:30 p.m. The 75 lb. team will play College Park at 5:30 p.m. at College Park's Duvall Field off Rhode Island Avenue. Please come out and support these Greenbelt teams. Football is still being played with the Greenbelt Raiders!!

THANKS

To the Editor:

I want to thank the Rescue Squad for their prompt arrival and TLC shown my husband enroute to the hospital last week. They were absolutely wonderful and we Greenbelters should be very grateful that we have such a dedicated team here.

Martha Kaufman

To the Editor:

Special thanks go to my support committee, the people who gave me monetary contributions, put signs in their yards, poll workers, and to the 504 people who thought enough of me to pull lever 8A on election day.

Irene Hensel

To the Editor:

We, the undersigned, want to thank Irene Hensel for having had the energy and conviction to enter the recent election. We feel satisfied with the results: notwithstanding an uphill fight and an extremely low budget, well over one quarter of all voters agreed with us that it is time for a new face.

As individuals we will continue our efforts to effect positive changes in our city.

Some Pets Need to Be Revaccinated for Rabies

The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene is urging dog and cat owners to be on the lookout for notification from their veterinarians regarding the need for some dogs and cats to be revaccinated against rabies as soon as possible. "This alert is a result of an announcement by Norden Laboratories that a rabies vaccine administered to dogs subcutaneously (under the skin) may not be as effective as when the animal is vaccinated intramuscularly (into the muscle)", said Dr. Jack Grigor, Maryland Public Health Veterinarian.

The only pets affected by this alert are those pets which were given Norden's vaccines subcutaneously. Pets given other vaccines and Norden's vaccines intramuscularly are not included. This alert also does not apply to cats. Dogs vaccinated at county animal rabies clinics should not be at risk.

There is a great deal at stake because of the ongoing rabies epidemic in wildlife. It is very important that pets be vaccinated against rabies to prevent the animal from contracting the disease and exposing family members and others to rabies.

What is a Bonded Bridge?

A bridge is a replacement for missing teeth which is not removable. The traditional method utilizes crowns over the teeth next to the space created by the missing tooth, with an artificial tooth attached between them. Over 90% of the time, this is the most desirable way to replace a missing tooth.

Recently, research was completed at the University of Maryland which showed that under special conditions, it is possible to bond an artificial replacement tooth to only the backs of the adjacent teeth, with little or no alteration to them. This bond is achieved by creating thousands of microscopic pores in the enamel and using a specially designed adhesive material.

The important point to remember is that bonding requires ideal conditions to be successful. Your family dentist must carefully evaluate your individual situation and decide which method would be the most appropriate.

Greenbelt Museum Open For Homecoming Weekend

by Sandra Barnes

The Grand Opening Ceremony of the Greenbelt Museum will be Saturday, October 10, at noon, in the common area adjacent to the museum grounds at 10-B Crescent Road. Volunteers have been hard at work these past few weeks scraping layers of paint from the kitchen cabinets, removing the pink tile from the bathroom, replastering and painting.

Restoration will be a continuous process even after the house formally opens to the public for tours. In a recent visit the garbage trough was found, having been covered with dirt for decades. Garbage cans were originally sunk into the ground on the service side of the house, but this practice was replaced many years ago. The lid is being restored.

Window shades have been ordered and sheer white curtains have been hung in each of the windows. Black tile has been installed throughout the house as well as original light fixtures. A 1937 electric refrigerator is ready to be plugged in as is an original stove. The bathroom toilet seat has been painted black. Innumerable small details remain to be done, and volunteers could be seen in the house this past weekend scraping the floors with pop-sicle sticks to remove small flecks of paint without scratching the tile.

The furniture was moved in this week. Most of the original pieces of furniture to be used in the house have been donated by the Carl Pearson, Jr. family in memory of Greenbelt pioneer Lillie Pearl Pearson. The oriental rug on the living room floor was donated recently by William Las-sell whose family comprised the first residents of 10-B Crescent. The rug was the one originally used in the house by the Lasell family.

Many items are still needed. Among the most critical are a kitchen sink from a masonry house. The museum now has a sink from a frame home; however it was discovered that the faucets were different in the frame and masonry homes. A sink has been promised to the museum by a resident who will be soon renovating a kitchen, but it may not be available in time for the opening. Also needed is the counter for the kitchen cabinets. The wooden drainboard for the sink has been found and is being refinished. Anyone who has items, please contact Martha Sinden at 345-1669 or Mary Linstrom at 474-7951.

The Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) is planning the ceremony for the museum opening. On hand will be many elected officials and dignitaries. Special guests will include Dorma Ashley Dealing, daughter of Marine Sergeant Julian Ashley and his wife Hazel, the first family to move into Greenbelt in the 1 Court of Gardenway. Also attending will be William Lassell, who has very special memories of the house that is now the Greenbelt Museum. A reception at the Greenbelt Center School will follow. The house will be open on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, October 10 and 11. Formal interpretive tours will not begin until the following week-end.

Museum guides, called docents, are being trained to give the tours, with the first training session scheduled for Saturday, September 26. Christina O'Boyle, assistant director of the Decatur House, and FOGM board member, is coordinating this effort. Several Greenbelters have volunteered to be the first guides. At present, the museum will be open every Sunday from 12 to 4 p.m., and during the week by reservation.

Happy 50th Anniversary CITY OF GREENBELT

October 9-12, 1987 has been selected for Greenbelt's Homecoming. All of the pioneer families have been invited to "come back home" and join current residents in Greenbelt's 50th Anniversary Celebration. Many special events have been planned to make this a fun-filled weekend for everyone. Some of the highlights include: 50th Anniversary Dinner/Dance - Greenbelt Hilton, Greenbelt Museum - Grand Opening, band performances, sporting events, special contests, children's mini-carnival and much more. A complete schedule of events for this special weekend will be published in the October 1, 1987 edition of the News Review. For more information call 474-6878.

Kenilworth traffic from the flow and despite requested SHA monitoring of the signals.

Giese also saw some design problems that will not be resolved by the completion of the construction or by quick fixes. He said, "The ramp from south bound Kenilworth to Greenbelt is a design failure and constitutes a permanent safety hazard if not rectified. Unfamiliar motorists are flabbergasted by the five lane ramp. Her requested an immediate changing which occurs."

One problem cited by Giese is that motorists exiting from Kenilworth may not be aware that while they are merging right to turn on Greenbelt Road, other "unseen vehicles" are merging left from the Edmonston Road ramp. He requested an immediate review of signage and visibility to reduce this problem.

The SHA should also, according to Giese, study possible modifications to the ramp, including reviewing the need for five lanes, re-evaluating the unsignalized right turn, and better identification of the Greenbelt Road lanes for the traffic turning left from the ramp.

Giese said that the unsignalized turn was hazardous for pedestrians, since motorists turning right must watch the traffic coming from the left and may not notice pedestrians attempting to cross from the right.

Ramp Reconstruction

The biggest change called for by the city manager was the redesign and reconstruction of the ramp from Edmonston Road. Giese suggested moving this ramp northward to reduce the amount of cross traffic. He also called for lowering the ramp to grade level and removing the concrete barriers to improve visibility.

He noted that before construction, the Edmonston Road traffic had more than 900 feet to cross through two lanes to the turn lane. Now Giese says this traffic has less than 500 feet to cross two lanes while motorists from Kenilworth are crossing in the opposite direction to turn onto westbound Greenbelt Road.

SHA Comments

Assistant District Engineer Shakib told the News Review that motorists can expect a 60 to 70 percent improvement in the traffic cycle timing once the final road surface is installed on Greenbelt Road. Until then, traffic sensors cannot be installed and the lights must be set to handle the peak traffic flow. This results in full light cycles, even if no vehicles are present on a road section. Once the sensors are installed, the light timing will be "demand sensitive."

Although there will be no separate bikeways, Shakib says that bicycle traffic has been accommodated by constructing fourteen-foot curb lanes, allowing the sharing of that lane by motorists and cyclists.

Signage is about 90 percent complete, according to Shakib, but he said that better markings are planned for the left turn lanes from Greenbelt Road onto northbound Kenilworth.

Shakib was not familiar with the earlier statement indicating that there should be a light governing the double right turn onto Greenbelt Road from Kenilworth Avenue. He said that this double turn is currently working well and that there are no plans to install such a light.

Other than completion of the project and improvements to the signage, no immediate changes are planned. However, Shakib

Drug Traffic Surpasses All Other Police Problems; Arrests Up Sharply

by Mavis Fletcher

Police Chief James R. Craze had some good news and some bad news for members of the Greenbelt Lions Club when he spoke at their dinner meeting on August 24. Craze, appointed to head the Greenbelt Police Department in February, painted a grim picture of drug use in the city, saying that 80-90% of all arrests are drug-related. However, he also said that the city police have launched a special effort against the drug traffic and in the last six weeks have made 28 arrests and confiscated $2500 worth of drugs and $15,000 in cash.

Among the items of good news, Craze said in response to questions that the neighborhood crime watch programs in Greenbelt are very successful—"surpassed by none in the county." He also said that he thinks people have become "more cognizant of their neighbors" and that the crime watches foster this concern. He urged everyone to come out to crime watch meetings and training sessions. He said that participants at least learn some methods of protecting their own homes through these meetings.

Lions Club members quizzed Craze on the advantages of calling 911 as compared to the Greenbelt police emergency number (474-5454). Craze replied that for Greenbelt residents, the Greenbelt emergency number will be faster.

The chief also fielded a number of other questions: Why does the dispatcher ask so many questions when one calls to report an incident such as a burglar alarm going off? Craze explained that the dispatcher should determine the location and the caller's name and then put the caller on hold while a police car is dispatched. After the dispatcher comes back on the phone, he/she may still want the caller to stay on the phone to give any additional information possible.

Another question related to the use of a weapon to repel a housebreaker. The chief, after emphasizing that the police should be called, advised that no one should try to use a weapon that he wouldn't want to have turned against him if the criminal gets his hands on it. "Know your own capabilities," he said.

Past and Future

Craze traced a brief history of the Greenbelt department from its beginnings as a one-man department in 1937 to the present department with its $2.3 million budget, three divisions, 42 officers and 17 support personnel, and last year's 16,000 calls for service and 1,400 criminal arrests.

A scarcely believable sidelight in this history was the fact that the department investigated 300 traffic accidents in 1966, about the same as last year. The chief was at a loss to explain this fact in light of the great increase in traffic. "Maybe," he said, "people drive better now."

Looking to the future, Craze gave no hint that he will be sorry to leave the department's present quarters in the municipal administration building. The new police building, on which construction will soon start, will have almost 16,000 sq. ft. compared to the 2,000 sq. ft. now occupied by the police in the municipal building.

The police chief also explained how a computer system which will soon be put into use will enhance record keeping and many other aspects of law enforcement.

Craze ended his presentation with a plea for help from the community. "The police can't do it alone," he said. He indicated that the growth in calls to the department has left the officers little or no time for driving around the neighborhoods to see if all appears to be well. "They run from call to call," he said, and appealed to the community to "be the eyes and ears of the police." He cited a recent case where such a citizen report resulted directly in an arrest. Unfortunately, he also cited another recent case where a citizen had noticed a suspicious circumstance but had not called the police at the time. Good news and bad news!

Results of Kenilworth-Greenbelt Road Interchange Questions On the 1987 City Questionnaire

At the September 15 election, voters (and other residents) were asked to fill out a city questionnaire which contained two questions about the Kenilworth Avenue-Greenbelt Road interchange. The two questions and background information on the completion status of the interchange are given below, along with a summary of the answers, as compiled by city staff member Blythe Catlin.

5. Kenilworth-Greenbelt Road Interchange

This project is partially complete. The bridge over Kenilworth has been built and the ramps on the west side of Kenilworth have been constructed. The ramps on the east side are not complete and temporary ramps are in use. Final timing of lights for Greenbelt Road and left turn movements from Greenbelt Road to Kenilworth cannot be done until all ramps are completed and open. Please give your comments on the following aspects of the interchange project.

1. The ramp from southbound Kenilworth Avenue (towards Riverdale) onto Greenbelt Road (which includes ramps from and to Edmonston Road in Springhill Lake) is: [Choose One]

- a. a significant improvement over previous intersection
- b. a slight improvement over the previous intersection
- c. has not improved the turning movements from Kenilworth Avenue and Springhill Lake onto Greenbelt Road
- d. is not as satisfactory to use as the previous intersection
- e. is decidedly worse to use and unsafe

- 2. When the interchange construction is completed, do you expect that for your use the new interchange will be?
- a. an improvement
- b. about the same as before
- c. less satisfactory

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

A non-resident man was arrested and charged with breaking and entering and battery after he climbed up to an ex-girlfriend's second-floor apartment in the 7900 block of Mandan Road and assaulted her. On September 11 at 3:50 a.m. officers were called to the residence after the woman was admitted to a local hospital with injuries. The responding officers located the man in a taxicab in front of the building. The man also had an outstanding warrant with the Montgomery County police. He was held on $1000 bond.

On September 16 at 2:43 a.m. while on routine patrol, Officer Tom Keifline observed a suspicious vehicle driving throughout the Springhill Lake apartment complex. Keifline stopped the vehicle and ascertained that the operator of the vehicle had a mobile car phone from which the serial number had been removed and was in possession of suspected marijuana and cocaine. The man, a resident of Washington, D.C., was arrested and held on $10,000 bond.

On September 16 four male patrons of the Holiday Spa Health Club in the Greenway Shopping Center reported that the padlocks had been broken off the lockers they were using and their wallets had been stolen.

Two men were seen forcing entry into a delivery truck in the 7500 block of Greenway Center Drive on September 17 at 10:06 a.m. One of the responding officers, Mike Lucia, located one of the suspects in front of an office building in the block. The Washington, D.C. resident was arrested after he was identified as one of the men observed removing boxes from the truck.

On September 11, Cpl. Thomas Miskell arrested a Landover resident after she was observed stealing cartons of cigarettes from Bud's Discount Drugs in Beltway Plaza.

An employee of an office in the 7500 block of Hanover Parkway reported the theft of her wallet from her purse which she kept under her desk. The theft was reported at about 6 p.m. on September 15.

On September 11, Officer Robert Musterman arrested a woman from Washington, D.C. for shoplifting at Marshall's Department Store in Beltway Plaza. The suspect had been seen hiding merchandise under her girdle.

A red 1985 Toyota 4x4 pickup, Maryland registration 739-213, was reported stolen on September 14 at 8:23 a.m. from the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway. The vehicle has not been recovered.

Equipment and building materials were reported stolen from the 7100 block of Lake Drive. The thefts apparently occurred over the weekend of September 12-13.

Kitchen counter tops were reported stolen from a construction site in the 7500 block of Greenbrook Drive. The theft was reported on September 14 at 12:45 p.m.

A resident of the 9100 block of Edmonston Road reported the theft of his motorcycle at about 11 a.m. on September 14. During the early hours of the next morning, Bladensburg and Prince Georges County Police engaged in a chase involving the motorcycle. After the chase, a Landover man was arrested and the motorcycle recovered.

Autos stolen and subsequently recovered during the week of September 11-18 were: a 1977 Ford van stolen from the 26 Court of Ridge Road and recovered by the Maryland State Police and a 1987 Toyota Corolla from the 9200 block of Edmonston Road recovered in Washington, D.C. In addition, Cpl. Thomas Miskell located a U-Haul truck reported stolen from the Laurel area in the 7900 block of Mandan Road on September 12 and he recovered a Chevrolet Nova reported stolen in Washington, D.C. in the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway on September 14.

Cases of theft from autos or vandalism to autos occurred during the week in the 7400 block of Morrison Drive, in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane, and in the 9100 block of Edmonston Road. In addition, two such cases were reported in the 5900 block of Cherrywood Lane.

GAYLIN FAMILY OFFER CARNIVAL RIDES AT LABOR DAY FESTIVAL

by Leta Mach

The Gaylins usually stay behind the scenes at the annual Labor Day Festival, but without them, the festival would be quite different. This year Tom Gaylin appeared briefly on the festival stage to accept a plaque commemorating the years of service the Gaylin family has given Greenbelt by providing carnival rides for the festival. Carnival chair J Davis presented the award on behalf of the Labor Day Festival Committee.

For all but one of its 33 years, the Labor Day Festival has used the Gaylins to provide the thrills — the ferris wheel, the giant slide, the chamonix, the merry-go-round — that everyone expects to find at a fair. Thomas Gaylin III is the third generation of Gaylins to work at the Labor Day Festival. His grandfather, Thomas Gaylin, Sr., provided the rides for the first festival. His sons, Thomas, Jr., and John Gaylin followed him as carnival ride providers for Greenbelt. One year early in its history, the festival committee decided to try another company. The committee quickly realized that the Gaylins were the best for the job. The family has been returning ever since.

Thomas Gaylin III has been coming to Greenbelt for the festival all his life. As a child, he came with his father and enjoyed the festival, just as all the children in Greenbelt did. Now he brings his family to the festival each year to play the games and participate in the activities. He has 10-and 12-year-old daughters and four-year-old twin sons. This complete, family-oriented festival is the one he most readily brings his family to visit.

He lists several reasons for the success of the festival: 1) the community involvement, which he doesn't find everywhere he works, 2) the professionalism of the stage productions, with the constant entertainment on stage, such as the Miss Greenbelt Pageant and 3) the cooperation the festival gets from the city leaders and public agencies, such as the Public Works Department. "The festival has a nice community atmosphere," he explains.

Based in Baltimore, the Gaylins provide rides for 30-35 activities a year. Except for one in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, all the dates are in Maryland. The Gaylins provide the rides for the Prince Georges County Fair. That fair usually has more rides because there is more room to place them. During the off-season, November to March, they work on the equipment. He also officiates for NC-AA wrestling at such places as the University of Maryland. Gaylin was a wrestler as a youth and has an attic full of trophies.

For the future, he promises different rides and games. He tries to bring something new each year. Because "the festival is profitable and the people are congenial and easy to get along with," he will be back.

Pet Show

This year's pet show featured 42 entries of one or more animals. The snake, Raggedy, came by itself but Winken, Blinken and Nod, the mice, entered as a family. With the motto, "every pet a winner," blue ribbons in as many categories were handed out by Niki Buemia, the 1986 Miss Greenbelt to the award winners. Judges for this year's contest were Alma Marsden, a veteran pet show judge, Delores Costello, Ethelyn Bishop, her visiting mother, Jerry Foley, and Mary Moien. Ray and Sandy Smith registered the pets.

The oldest pet in the show was a 40-year-old turtle, Benny, entered by the youngest contestant, Ari Goldberg-Strassler. In honor of Greenbelt's 50th anniversary Ari and Benny will receive a photograph in a commemorative frame.

Winners for their dogs were: Chrissy Wilson, best bark; Katie Boring and Brian Ross, friendliest; Matt Sweeney, best behaved; Brian Crabill, calmest; Michael and Christena Marinelli, most unusual coat; Ryan Biraben, most aristocratic; Liam Pattison, best dressed; David Gorman, friskiest; Chris Lobkovich, sleekest coat; Marty Pelphrey, sweetest; Leah Brandt, most obedient; Kimberley Winterwerp, curliest tail; Alexander Cosgrove, most curious; Heather Buerger, most debonair; Jacob Norick, most eager; Mehera O'Brien, happiest.

Three cats were in the show and won for these characteristics: Stacey Kopstein, fluffiest; Melanie White's most unusual; and Samantha's Shalom was the prettiest. In the fish group, winners were: John Stange's, most colorful; Michael Hickman's prettiest; Lynne Tucker's friendliest; Jesse Goldberg-Strassler's, friskiest.

The hamster winners were: Meredith Criswell's, most unusual; Laura Hickman's, youngest; Kara and Alyssa Bear's nosiest; Amanda Baidauf's prettiest. Teh guinea pigs included: Natalie Arnold's, shyest; Timothy Cottle's, most unusual; Jean Kepler's, most colorful; and Danielle Barber's best personality. The turtles won for these owners: Jenette Donbullian, most interesting color; and Heather and John Norden, most active. The owners in the hermit crab category winners were: Greg Mangun, most active; and Alicia Johnson, oldest hermit crab.

In a class by themselves were Alex Corcoran's, slowest toad; Christy Desposito's best dressed rabbit; Meadow Wirick's, most

by Valarie Basheda

The rides were the first outward sign of the activity to come. Sitting on a barren parking lot, they only awaited the thrill-seekers daring to try them.

But a walk through Centerway on Friday night at Greenbelt's Labor Day Festival quickly dismissed any idea that this was just another city fair. Mixed among the smells of french fries and the sounds of "B-14" at the bingo stand, was, for example, the Prince Georges County Vote-Mobile. Use of the Vote-Mobile started just this summer, according to county Board of Elections volunteer Susan Conroy.

"We make ourselves available for people," Conroy said, adding that people often do not know where or how to register. The Vote-Mobile travels to shopping centers and fairs throughout the county, she said, enabling Prince Georges County residents to register to vote on the spot.

This newcomer to the service club booths joined the ranks of the Sierra Club, Greenbelt fire and police departments, SPCA and one with a long-standing tradition—the Greenbelt PTA book sale. Donations have been supporting this successful sale for years, according to a volunteer worker.

Sixteen-month-old April Roberts was clapping and keeping time to another festival tradition—a performance by the Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County.

"She loves the music," her mother, Sandy, said, "and she likes meeting people."

Directed by John DelHomme, the band played selections ranging from the majestic "Trumpets of Splendor," by John Cacavas, to melodic "Second American Folk Rhapsody," arranged by Clare Grundman.

"Everybody is enjoying it," said Greenbelt resident Dora Kreimeyer. "Their concerts are always fantastic."

"Unity Through Community Involvement" was the theme of this 33rd annual Labor Day Festival. And whether they were aware of the theme or not, "community" was a word echoed by festival-goers when asked to comment about the event.

"It's fun, it brings the community together," said John Meyers.

"There is so much community spirit in Greenbelt," four-year resident Kreimeyer said. "It's a unique community . . . there's a feeling of belonging here."

"We . . . celebrate the powerful sense of community we have developed in 50 years," proclaimed

Tom Renahan during the Outstanding Citizen of Greenbelt Award ceremony. Those citizens honored each year, he said, show leadership, cooperative spirit, modesty, hard work, and have "enobled the city by what they have done."

Exemplifying the spirit of Renahan's words, 1987 Outstanding Citizen Award winner Sandra Barnes has a long history of citizen involvement. Starting as a reporter on the Greenbelt News Review, Sandra's most recognized accomplishment was organizing and running Greenbelt's on-going 50th anniversary celebration.

Describing Barnes as an "extraordinary volunteer," and "modest, selfless, conscientious, diligent, dedicated," Renahan's speech was followed by proclamations to Barnes. Shifting slightly from foot to foot and dressed in Greenbelt is Great T-shirt uniform of a festival volunteer, Barnes concluded the ceremony with her remarks.

Greenbelt, she said, is the "best city to live in." A more than twenty-year resident of the city, Barnes recognized the special people she worked with, and added that her contributions to the community had enriched her life.

As one highlight of the festival ended, another began—the Miss Greenbelt pageant. Opening with a dance routine to "America," by Neil Diamond, the nine teenage contestants wore costumes representing different countries.

For them, as for the crowd that had assembled on Friday night, this was only the beginning of a weekend full of activities and tribute to community spirit that make up the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival.

(These impressions of the News Review by one of the city's newest residents.)

CITY NOTES

Members of all crews assisted with trash pick up. Due to the intense heat, five men were assigned to regular trash recently.

The parks crew worked on ball fields, the horticulturist on flower beds on Southway. Planting continued throughout various sections of the city.

The bus is in a six-day operation and the demand for service is increasing.

The paving breaker which was purchased on bids last fiscal year, 1986-87 is now in service.

Greenbelt Soccer

by Jane Cosner

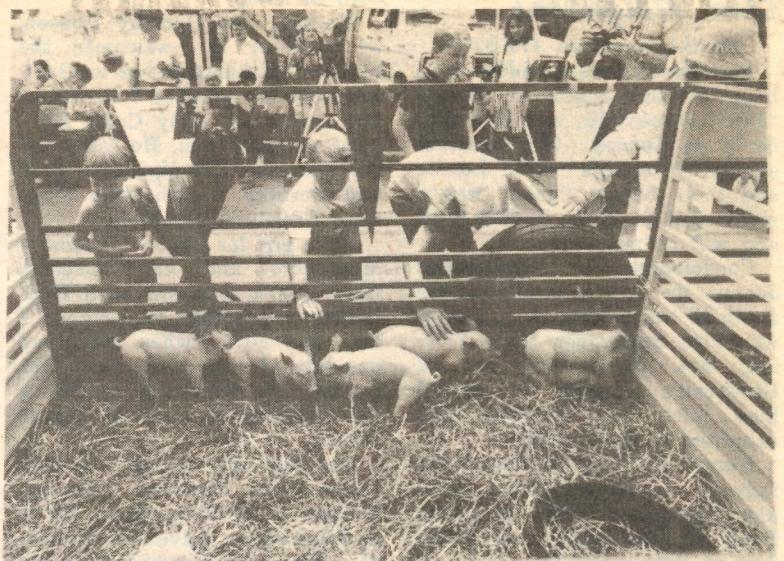

The Greenbelt Boys & Girls Club Fall soccer season has started with a bang! Sign-ups brought in so many children in the 1980/81 category that they had to be split up into two teams, called Greenbelt #1 and Greenbelt #2, both being coached by Frank Swail and his assistant Julie Greer.

Greenbelt #1 had a Friday night game under the lights against Lewisdale #2 and came away with a sweet victory of 7-0. All of the players showed great potential of growing into finely skilled soccer players. Special mention goes to Michael Kunowski who played with great enthusiasm. The scorers were Karim Fadli, Sima Fadli, Jaime Pereira, Kenny Sanchez and Michael Schultz.

Greenbelt #2 literally squashed Lewisdale #3 in their game on Saturday, even after the coaching staff pulled players off the field (without replacing them) to try to balance matters. The final score was 14-0. Special mention goes to Amy Putens (whose score was called back by the official due to offsides) and goalie Nicholas Moore (who didn't let a single goal get by). The scorers were Gregg Burt, Jonathan Greer, Ryan Greer, Manish Khatta, Patrick Moore, Eric Nudo and Jason Welsh.

The 1978/79's completely dominated the New Carrollton team during their Saturday game. The passing and dribbling skills which they worked on in preseason paid off. New Carrollton tried unsuccessfully to overcome Greenbelt's domination, but was rewarded with only one goal because of the extra efforts of Benjamin Skolnik. The final score (1-1) doesn't come close to showing how well this team actually played. Michael Mehringer scored the one goal made by Greenbelt.

The 1976/77 team played as just that, something their coach, Doc Jones, is rightfully proud of. He grins from ear-to-ear when speaking of his 6-2 victory over College Park. He asks that special mention go to his goalies, Greg Hunanian and Eric Jorgenson, who both played a fine game. The scorers were Stacey King, Scott Lubey, Marc Sclawy, T.J. Trimble and Kris Todd.

Adult categories — nature: 1st - Wayne Hartman for "Formation", 2nd - Don Volk for "Down - Lake Tahoe", 3rd - Anne Aloï for "Springtime," Lisa Walter for "Snow Tree," Eric Winkler for "Dew on Blue"; Greenbelt scenes: 1st - Gary Peck for "Weeping Willow", 2nd - Liz White for "Mist on the Lake", 3rd - Miriam Wolff for "Greenbelt Lake"; portraits: 1st - Gary Cousin for "Tim and Donna", 2nd - Carol M. Smith for "Adam", 3rd - Gary Cousin for "Curves"; sports: 1st - Keith Zevallos for "radials", 2nd - Anne Aloï for "At the Harbor"; community favorite - Wayne Hartman for "Formation".

Young photographer: 1st - Reed Wirick for "Primroses", 2nd - Amy Mach for "Swan".

Before and After School Care Sign-Up Extended

In response to parent requests, the Board of Education has approved an extension of the registration period for the nine public elementary schools: Calverton, Carole Highlands, Hillcrest Heights, Hyattsville, Kenilworth, Marlton, Potomac Landing, Ridgecrest, University Park, offering the Before and After School Care Program. The new deadline is Friday, October 30.

In addition, a revised cost schedule to accommodate fewer students has been implemented in the event the original threshold number of sixty participants cannot be met.

Golden Age Club

by Janet James

Except on rare occasions, such as when Christmas or New Year's falls on a Wednesday, the Golden Age Club of Greenbelt meets either at the Youth Center or, on the second Wednesday of the month, at the American Legion. We meet at 11 a.m. when meeting at the Youth Center. You senior citizens of Greenbelt who have not visited us, please accept the invitation in our Golden Agers' song, "Come down to the meeting/See what Golden Agers do."

For example, on September 30, Eugene Krebs, president of the Board of Realtors, will speak on the subject "Advantages and Disadvantages of Owning Real Estate for Senior Citizens."

Besides excellent programs, or now and then a party, there are all of us lovely Golden Agers to get acquainted with.

"Antique & '88" Cars At Springhill Lake

An automobile extravaganza featuring classic antiques as well as brand-new, hi-tech automobiles will take place on September 26 next to the Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge.

From 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., everything from a BMW to a Bentley (and more) will be on display. Live music, including a strolling barbershop quartet, and a disc jockey will provide the entertainment. You can get your picture taken beside an antique car by a tintype photographer, have lunch and view costumes representing both "antique" and "'88." Admission is free.

THE GREENBELT CONNECTION EXPANDS SERVICE

The Greenbelt Connection has expanded its service. Service is now offered Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with Sunday Service remaining the same—9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. We hope our riders find this expanded service more useful and more convenient.

Persons wishing to use the service are asked to call for a ride as far in advance of the ride as possible (24 hours). Calling in advance makes it easier for us to schedule rides.

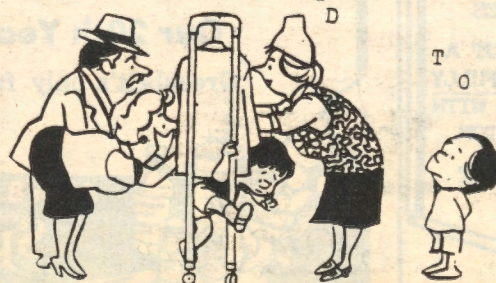

For a ride, call the Greenbelt Connection at 474-4100 and leave your name, address, telephone number, destination and time of pick up.

Thanks for your support and cooperation.

Our Neighbors

Martha Kaufman 474-9359
Greenbelters were saddened to hear of the death of Robert "Jake" Jacoby, Sr. who died suddenly on Sunday. Our sincerest sympathy to his wife, Lucille and their family. "Jake" was a member of the News Review Staff and will be missed by all.

Condolences to Greenbelter Jeanne Hardy and family on the death of her mother, Ann Kasko, who died September 19 in Florida. Mrs. Kasko was one of Greenbelt's pioneers who moved here with her husband and daughter in April 1938.

Happy Birthday to Joan Yakuphovich who celebrated her birthday September 6 and to Laura Beall who celebrated her birthday on September 15.

Friends of Joe Mac Schubert, 1 Gardenway, wish him a Happy

50th Birthday.

Norman and Dorothy Dobson, of Lakeside Dr. welcomed the birth of Nicholas James on Sept. 21. Nicholas weighed 7 lb. 15 oz. and arrived at Holy Cross Hospital at 11:12 p.m. He joins sister Theresa. Grandparents Fred and Dorothy Baluch were longtime Greenbelt residents.

It's a girl for Deidre O'Connor-Montefiore and her husband, Greg. Alexa, who was born Wednesday, September 16, weighed 7 lbs., was 20½ inches long, and has lots of long dark hair. Her mother, Ms. O'Connor, teaches a 4/5 combination class at Center School.

Our best wishes for a speedy recovery to Kazimer (Charles) Kincius of 33 Ridge Road. He is in Washington Adventist Hospital. We hope he will be home and well soon.

Congratulations to Barbara and Arnie Strand of Westway on the arrival of Amanda Christine who was born on September 2 at Holy Cross Hospital. Amanda weighed 7 lbs., 4½ oz. and was 19¾" long. She was welcomed home by her sister and brother, Jeanne and Bob Asmussen.

Congratulations to Heidi Burghardt of Greenbelt who was the second runner up in the Miss Deaf Maryland at the recent convention of the Maryland Association of the Deaf in Ocean City, Md.
